THE STRIKE IN DECATUR

Trains Coming and Going as Usual and Freights to Move.

The Military and U. S. Deputy Marshals Guard the Right of Way and Cars.

Exciting Time at Danville Saturday Night
—A Bayonet Charge by the Militia.

The situation locally may be said to remain unchanged. The Wabash continues to do passenger business, and efforts are in progress to send out freight trains to Chicago, St. Louis, Quincy and Danville. The strikers hold meetings at the hall, and a few can be seen on the Central side of the depot when the shade is right, or on the I. D. & W. right of way east of the depot. They are quiet and orderly.

Bayonet Charge at Danville
Private Kendall, of the Decatur Guards, arrived in Decatur Sunday night from Danville, where the Guards and the Champaign company are on duty. Kendall came home to visit his mother, who is seriously ill. In conversation with a Republican reporter Kendall said:

"The boys here are having a picnic. It is different over at Danville. That is the hottest place I ever was in. The disorder is something terrible at times. Saturday night pandemonium broke loose, when a mob of nearly 2000 men were there but they soon got lost in the crowd unable to do anything. A deputy marshal came on a lode to the military camp, and Major Nichols got the Decatur and Champaign companies in line, all going on the double quick to the depot. The situation was critical in the extreme. A train was made up to go out with a scab engineer and a scab brakeman on duty. In the mob were men with ropes bent on hanging the engineer and brakeman, and when the military companies reached the depot the mob was reaching about in a threatening manner, over the railroad right of way. The scab engineer, Major Nichols for the people to disperse were answered with yells, jeers and missiles thrown at the Guards. Finally the militia were drawn up in line and the command was given to charge bayonets, and the boys made the rush at the word 'charge,' scattering the people like chaff before the wind. In the charge quite a number of people were punctured by the bayonet points, and some were seriously hurt. I was told that Private Reavis had run a man through the body with a bayonet. Lieutenant Cassell was struck on the head with a stone, but not hurt. I thought for a time that the mob would get Capt. Colladay and Lieut. Cassell, but when the mob had dispersed all of the officers and men were in place ready to make another rush if necessary. The tracks were promptly cleared, the guard lines extended, and the train went out, the engine manned by a squad of militia. Now there are scores of United States deputy marshals at Danville, and many arrests were made on Sunday. I am going back as soon as possible."

A Slight Disturbance.
On Sunday evening about 6 o'clock, while the Chicago passenger train stood at the depot platform, Clarence Kelsa, was heard to make a remark by Ballard, that the latter accepted in the nature of an intimidation, and jumping from the engine grabbed Mr. Kelsa and started to push him from the platform. Kelsa refused to go and Ballard turned him over to two marshals and they took him off the platform, and turned him loose. A large crowd soon gathered and for a time it was feared trouble had arrived. Kelsa called for the protection of the police and Officer Simeral responded but refused to grant Kelsa permission to return to the platform. The officer also stated that if the marshals had fired him off he had better stay away. Kelsa, however, returned but showed no disposition to act unruly. The strikers greatly deplore the circumstance.

Run the Crossing.
The engineer of No. 44 from St. Louis Sunday morning arrived a few minutes late and it is claimed by the railroad strikers that he ran the Illinois Central crossing without stopping. The law is very plain in a case of this kind and the strikers called on Officer Simeral to make the arrest. The officer declined stating that he was not clear on that point of law and referred them to State's Attorney Mills. The strikers are very much worked up over the event and it is probable that a warrant will be issued before night for the arrest of the engineer.

Asking for Help.
A committee representing the striking railroad men visited many of the Decatur business and professional men to-day asking for cash contributions to aid them in maintaining the position they have taken in the strike trouble. We learn this afternoon that the committee succeeded in collecting a considerable amount of money.

Trains In and Out.
No. 43, due to leave Sunday morning at 4:30 for Quincy left at 6 o'clock.
No. 44 from St. Louis, due to arrive at 11:25, arrived at 11:50 o'clock. Left for Toledo.
No. 4 from St. Louis, due to arrive at 11:57, arrived on time. Left for Chicago.
No. 5, due to arrive from Chicago at 4:05, arrived at 3:45.
No. 45 from Toledo, due to arrive at 3:55, came in three hours late. The delay was largely caused by waiting for mail connections.
No. 42, from Quincy arrived here at 9:20 last evening.

TO-DAY.
No. 6 left here for Chicago this morning at 7:05, about 30 minutes late.
No. 16, due to leave at 6:15, left for Toledo at 6:30.
No. 9, due to leave for St. Louis at 5:30, left ten minutes late.
No. 43, due to leave for Quincy at 6:45, left 15 minutes late.
No. 44 from Quincy, and No. 4 and 44 from St. Louis, arrived between 12 and 1 o'clock to-day, all a few minutes behind time.

Fired Out.
This morning Trainmaster Jenkins notified the baggage men at the depot to keep everyone out of the baggage room except those that actually had business there. The room was immediately cleared, and so far no one has insisted on going in, contrary to the orders.

Declared Off.
The Wabash excursion to-morrow to Quincy has been declared off, owing to the uncertainty of the trains.

Discharged.
The Wabash agent at Stonington was dismissed last night from the service of the road for making sympathetic remarks to the strikers.

Cotter Here.
Trainmaster Cotter, of Litchfield, arrived in the city this morning, and John Brant.

The road foreman, after a several days' absence assisting the officials at Springfield and points on the main line, arrived home to-day.

The White Ribbons.
The white ribbons, the emblems for the sympathizers to wear, was being worn quite freely at the depot this morning.

Peoria Men Quit.
The Peoria railway men, about 500 in number, quit work at Peoria to-day. Agitator Walsh, from Chicago, appealed to the men to stand together, and they acted on his advice.

The Marshals
are especially active to-day owing to the rapidity of the arriving trains and the switching in the yards.

Switch Engine Out.
Wabash switch engine No. 111 is out to-day.

A Plowing Bee.

Mrs. Ella Harlander, widow of the late Stewart Harlander, truly realizes the value of friends. While absent this week at Salem, Ill., whither she accompanied the remains of her father, the farmers, her neighbors, went in yesterday morning and laid by twenty-five or thirty acres of corn. This was certainly very thoughtful of the men and is thoroughly appreciated by Mrs. Harlander, who, while the hand of relentless fate has been heavily upon her the past year, must admit that even in the dark hours, she can see brightness.

Those assisting in this noble act of kindness were Messrs. A. N. Reid, Albert Stewart, C. L. Jones, David Rainey, Frank Hockaday, Jas. Armstrong, Wm. Moon, Shewmaker and son, James Mayall, N. C. Luckenbill, Robert Leech, Wm. Blanchard and H. Derrieks. We might add by way of apology for William Lazelle that he was conspicuous in his absence. He was away from home, otherwise he would certainly have assisted. —Marion News.

A Crushed Foot.

This forenoon William Bromley while assisting R. J. Roberts in moving a house on West Macon street, met with a serious injury. Accidentally he had his foot caught under one of the rollers and his foot was so badly crushed that he had to be given immediate attention.

Dr. E. W. Moore attended him, and later he was taken to his home on East Macon street.

Jumped on the Wagon.

This forenoon there was an ugly runaway out on West Macon street. A team belonging to Jacob Pfeiffer became frightened and tore along the street at a terrific pace, and could not be stopped or headed off. One of the horses jumped into a gravel wagon driven by a man in the employ of John Ward. The man was slightly hurt on the head and the horse was fatally hurt.

THE CREEKMUR CASE.

Trial Nearing the End—The Defendant On the Stand.

The jury in the John B. Creekmur case will probably let the defendant know his fate this week. The arguments of the attorneys are about to begin.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JULY 7.

Allen Evans, recalled, testified I was present when Boyd was undressed. In trying to take off the coat I pulled at the sleeve and it ripped; I suggested to get the coat down the back and Philip Garvin, who was there, said to try to bend the arm; didn't notice any rip in the coat that night.

In the cross-examination he said he didn't know which sleeve he pulled.

James Birchfield testified: Lived at Levi Creekmur's place in April; the day of Boyd's death passed by the house and went back to the barn and heard the stallion squealing. John was currying the filly and Boyd was looking on. They carried on a conversation in perfectly friendly terms. They talked something about working the filly; Jesse was there for a little while but went back to the field. Boyd brought a bottle part full of whiskey and we each took a pull out of it. Boyd said it was the remains of the night before and that he was feeling pretty stiff. The stallion was jumping around all the time I was in there and he tried to kick me, but Boyd pulled me out of the way and told me to be careful, that the horse would kick me. When I left they were both as friendly as they ever were, and I didn't notice either of them act unusual.

Witness was cross-examined by Mr. Leforge, but did not give anything different from the direct examination.

Philip Garvin testified: Was at Boyd's house the night of the accident and got there about a half hour before he did; was present at the inquest held by Ross Hockaday; I was present when Boyd was undressed and heard the coat tear when it was taken off; I told them to bend the arm and the sleeve would come off more easily.

Levi Creekmur, brother of the defendant, testified, I met John as I was coming out from Oreama the night Boyd was hurt; he told me of the accident and we went for Dr. Carr, and not being able to get him we went for Dr. Thomas; when we got back Boyd was dead; we went for Ross Hockaday to hold an inquest; Allen Evans and I undressed Boyd; the sleeves tore some while we were taking the coat off but I don't think it was torn as bad as it is now; John held the light; Philip Garvin suggested that we bend the arms so the coat wouldn't tear.

When cross-examined by Mr. Leforge the witness said he couldn't say definitely whether or not the sleeve was torn that night.

Philip Garvin testified that John testified at the inquest that when he left the barn Boyd was going up into the haymow. When cross-examined by Mr. Mills the witness said that John didn't say anything about the separator at the inquest.

MONDAY, JULY 9.

John Creekmur, the defendant was put on the stand and while he gave his testimony he held one of his little children on his lap—a child about 3 years old. He was examined by Mr. Carr and testified as to his coming home from Marion on the afternoon of the day Boyd was killed. He said that when he returned he first stopped at the Boyd place and saw some boards off in the hog lot. Went home, left team, took hammer and spade and went over to the Boyd place; filled old well and then repaired fence at the hog lot; while doing this Boyd came home. He came home in a buggy, having with him his little girls and leading a mule and cart behind. Went up and helped Boyd unhitch. We turned horse he was driving and the mule he led into the barn lot. After this Boyd and I turned a filly into the barn. I wanted to clean her off and work her the next day. There was a stallion in the middle stall of the barn; when the filly ran into the barn it ran past the stallion into the back stall. Boyd drove the filly back to the front stall where I tied and curried her. As Boyd passed the horse he kicked at Boyd. Jesse Birchfield, who owned the stallion, came in from the field and told us not to fool with his horse. He tied the horse more securely and then left the barn and went to his work. Jim Birchfield came to the stable while Jesse was there and remained about 15 minutes. While Jim was there Boyd brought in a bottle with about half a pint of whiskey. Birchfield, Boyd and I drank it. While we were there the horse was very nervous and excited.

As soon as we turned out the filly I started home. Boyd was then in the stall next the door. He asked me to stay for supper but I told him I could not as I wanted the boy to put in some wood. Boyd said: Well, then, you tell Jess I will do the feeding this evening and he need not come over. As I left Boyd he was getting on the separator to get into the mow. It was about 5 o'clock when I left the barn. I did not strike Boyd with a spade, hammer, or any other instrument that afternoon. When I crossed the field going home I talked with Birchfield and Adams and told one of them it was either 15 minutes to 5 o'clock or 15 minutes after. I also told them to go another round or two and come in and put some wood in the shed. As soon as I crossed the field about 5 o'clock I heard the horse squealing and I heard Mrs. Boyd giving the alarm. My wife said: Some of you had better go and see what is the matter. I told Frank Singleton to go. He started at once and about that time Charley Adams came and reported that the horse had killed Boyd. Fred Creekmur and I at once followed Singleton and when I got to the barn Mrs. Boyd, Jesse Birchfield and Singleton were there and Boyd was lying in the north stall. Helped to carry him to the house. Birchfield watched the horse while we carried Boyd out behind him. Did not see the tear in his coat when we took him out of the barn. I went for Dr. Carr; he was not at home and I got Dr. Thomas. On my way I met my brother Levi in a cart. I got in the cart with Levi and he went back with me to Argenta for the doctor. At the suggestion of some one I went for Squire Hockaday to hold an inquest. I saw the clothing taken off Boyd and took the clothing out of doors and did not see the rip in the sleeve. I brought the clothing in again in about 30 minutes and the rip was not in the sleeve then. I did not testify before the coroner's jury that the last I saw of Boyd he was in the mow, throwing down hay. Cornelius Cox is either uncle or cousin to Ben and Pratt Nelson. Had a talk with Ben Nelson the day before the funeral in which he told me that I was suspected of having killed Boyd. The next day Pratt Nelson told me the same thing. They both mentioned Cornelius Cox as being one of the persons who had such suspicious witness admitted receiving the Shipley letter from Boyd. On the day of the funeral Pratt Nelson also told me that Boyd had come to see him and said he wanted to scare some money out of me and he (Nelson) had refused to be a party to it. I had never before heard that Boyd was in a conspiracy to extort money out of me. I did not say to Boyd at the barn Sunday evening anything about running away rather than pay two or three hundred dollars.

Cross-examination by Mr. Mills brought out nothing new nor anything materially different from direct testimony.

The Debs Strike.

It will not be long until E. V. Debs will be condemned almost unanimously by those who are now following him.

He will be condemned because he has made the greatest blunder any labor leader has ever made, and he must fail.

The greatest calamity that could befall labor would be success along the line

Debs has marked out, and on the contrary the best thing that can happen labor will be the failure that surely will be the result of the Debs strike.

His first blunder consists in the conception of organizing all railroad employees under one broad union, which involves the destruction of all other distinctive advantageous to those who belonged to them.

An organization, such as Debs has been forming, could have no other purpose than to put the traffic of the country to tribute to one man—a dictator.

Such an organization would trample under foot the rights of the people and jeopardize the functions of both state and national governments. It would be an organization that sooner or later must come in conflict with state and national law and in that event the question would have to be determined whether the state and the national government could enforce their laws or whether the organization could prevent them from doing so.

Such an organization whether of laboringmen, professional men or capitalists, could not be permitted to exist. Suppose the doctors, surgeons and druggists of the country were to combine, and place themselves, by obligation, in the hands of a single man or committee, and upon their order were all to cease to minister to the needs of the sick of the whole country, would anybody long endorse such a procedure? Suppose all the railroad managers in the United States were to organize in one body and commit to one person the power to say when the cars should run and directing they should not run, could such a state of things be permitted to exist? Either the government would have to surrender its power or such an organization would have to be abandoned.

The second mistake Mr. Debs has made is in ordering the holding up of the entire trade of the country on the pretext of sympathy for a few striking employees at Pullman.

The sympathetic strike on such a scale must fail. It can not be permitted by the government to succeed. Such a strike precludes the possibility of any settlement by agreement.

Any agreement made under a system of sympathetic strikes would be worthless. If a strike can be ordered on the principle of sympathy by Mr. Debs, for one class of workmen, and an agreement should be entered into with them, and they should resume work, and a cause for striking in sympathy with another class the next day should arise, they would be ordered out in spite of the agreement made the previous day, and there would be no sacredness in any agreement. On this point Grand Master Wilkinson of the Brotherhood of Trainmen says:

The great strength of the brotherhood has been the inviolability of their contracts. By taking part in this strike we forfeit all we have gained and secure nothing.

Only a short time ago Mr. Debs made an agreement for the men on the Northern Pacific. That agreement ought to be sacred if it was intended to be worth anything, and yet Mr. Debs has ordered the same men out on this so-called sympathetic strike, and has thus put himself in a position, as well as those who follow him, where it would be useless to enter into a contract with them. These are the things which will sooner or later force themselves upon the attention of the railroad men. There must come a time when these things will be reasoned out calmly and dispassionately, and when that time comes Mr. Debs will go down in the estimation of those who follow him now. It is then they will see that he is the enemy instead of the friend of organized railroad employees.

There are many who already see it and are refusing to be controlled by him, while others who obeyed him in the first instance are getting out from under the wreck Mr. Debs will be responsible for. All over the country railway employees have refused to obey his management and are following the lead of the majority.

Ex-Gov. FORAKER said some good and timely things in a speech on the Fourth on the occasion of the dedication of the soldiers' monument at Cleveland. Here are a few of them:

No government will execute itself. It is not the business of the government to furnish employment or bread; neither is it the right of government, by imbecility or the application of false theories, to paralyze business, destroy prosperity and enforce idleness with its consequent misery and crime.

We must have neither hunger nor bayonets, and we will not have either long. The mills and the factories must be started; the mines must be kept open. But this change cannot be brought about by violence. It must come about in an orderly manner, under and in accordance with the forms, provisions and requirements of law.

Let no man take the law into his own hands. It is our sovereign ruler, and whoever strikes at it strikes at the only king we have. Every such blow, no matter in whose name it is struck, or how it is disguised, is moral, if not legal, treason, as rank and as foul as was the assassin's thrust that struck down the President of the French Republic.

If we would perpetuate what our fathers achieved, and our children saved, we must suppose not only assaults upon constituted authority, but also the men who make such assaults. We have no room, broad as our country is, for the anarchist, the communist, the socialist or the boycotter. They are all un-American. They are all enemies of labor as well as of capital. Their tyranny is greater than that which precipitated the American revolution. Their success would mean the dissolution of society and the overthrow of the republic.

DEMAGOGUES have managed to array labor against capital and induced a large per cent of workingmen to vote to change the condition upon the business of the country has been built up ostensibly to get even with capital, and now, when the whole business fabric of the country has been put in jeopardy, and has been demoralized and a reduction of wages has begun to meet the changed conditions, the same people, or many of them, who voted for the change think they can keep up wages by the power of organization. But such attempts must fail in the end, for the very simple reason that no co-operation or individual firm can do business at a loss. Either wages, which represent 90 per cent of the cost of conducting any business, including the purchase of material, must be lowered, the business increased, or the business must be suspended.

WAR AT HAMMOND.

The Center of Disturbance Temporarily Removed from Chicago

WHERE SEVERE FIGHTING IS GOING ON.

A Handful of United States Soldiers Being Surrounded and Hard Pressed by Thousands of Rioters Bent on Their Destruction.

Reinforcements Sent to Their Relief Detained by Obstructions on the Track
—The Telegraph Office Looted and Communication Cut Off.

CHICAGO, July 8, 8 p. m.—A report from Hammond says one man was killed and another seriously wounded in a riot at 6 o'clock to-night. The dead man's name is Charles Fleischman.
He was shot through the abdomen and died instantly.

A mob congregated about the Monon tracks destroying railroad property and obstructing the tracks. A few minutes before 6 o'clock the mob proceeded to a place on toe tracks where an empty Pullman car was standing.
Ropes were procured and thrown over the car.

Capt. Hart and thirty-nine men of Co. B, of the fifteenth infantry, U. S. A., had been patrolling the tracks in a passenger coach. The military train was run up behind the mob and the order to fire was given.

About 800 shots were fired and at the first volley an unknown man dropped dead.

At the next volley W. H. Campbell, a spectator, fell to the ground with a bullet in his thigh.

Another volley was fired and several people were wounded, how many is not known, as the wounded were carried away by members of the mob.

As soon as the soldiers stopped firing a big branny fellow, who was in the crowd, stepped to the front and urged the mob to avenge the murder. "Get your guns, boys," he said, "and slay the hounds."

The mob needed no second urging, and rushed to their homes and got their weapons. They returned and attacked the soldiers.

A furious battle is now raging.
The troops, three companies of the regulars, which had left the city shortly after 3 o'clock in command of Gen. Miles had not reached the scene.
The railroad tracks are obstructed, and it is feared that the reinforcements will not reach the scene in time to prevent the capture of Capt. Hart and his handful of men.

The United States marshal and most of the deputies refused to protect the soldiers, and have left the scene.

The soldiers have retreated to the coach and are firing through the windows on the mob.

The Storm Center Shifts to Hammond.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The storm center to-day was at Hammond, an Indiana suburb of the city. Here a mob of nearly 3,000 was in possession and no troops in sight. They sacked the Western Union telegraph office; overturned freight cars, and committed all sorts of depredations. Five railroad employees were wounded at the hands of the mob, one fatally.

The out-bound Sunday passenger train from Chicago on the Monon railway was brought to a halt by the mob.
The engineer and fireman were made to dismount, and the locomotive was quickly "killed" by opening a valve and allowing all the water to run out of the boiler.

The active leaders of the mob were not local strikers, or known to the Hammond people. Under their leadership, however, the town was terrorized throughout the night, and railway traffic paralyzed.

Boldly operating right in the center of town, the mob had everything nearly its own way. The worst trouble came about 3 a. m., when in a skirmish with railway employees three men were killed low in a bunch. Two other men were badly injured in other encounters.

The man whose wounds are supposed to be mortal is H. H. Miles, an employee of the Interlocking Switch Co.

One of the acts of the desperate mob was the burning of a Pullman coach.
It was set on fire in several places simultaneously and completely consumed. Fully twenty-five freight cars were derailed and tipped upside down, but the torch was not applied to them.

An unprecedented proceeding in strike tactics was the attack on the telegraph office. The mob became possessed with the idea that telegrams were about to be sent to Gov. Matthews at Indianapolis asking for troops, and the strike leaders determined to forestall such action if possible.

Entrance to the telegraph office was effected with scant courtesy, and in the expressive language of an eyewitness,
"the place was cleaned out completely." Since then telegraphic communication between Hammond and the outside world has been cut off completely.

THE INCENDIARY'S TORCH.

Rioters Gathering to Raid the Stock Yards
—The Police Concentrated There.

CHICAGO, July 8.—This afternoon the mob massed along the Michigan Central tracks and burned the bridge on that line just west of town. The road is tied up east of the state line. The telegraph operators have been driven out, and the only communication is by long distance telephone. Four workingmen were beaten, probably fatally.
Engineer McLean, Fireman Cooper and Brakeman Hudson were terribly beaten.

Rioters are gathering in great numbers at the stock yards, and it is reported that preparations are being made to raid the yards to-night. The police are being concentrated there.

The labor committee did not go to Vice-President Wilson's office to discuss the situation to-day, as was expected.
He said he was willing to see the Pullman strikers, but that he would not talk with the American Railway union.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon it was reported that a mob of rioters had resumed work along the Panhandle tracks in the vicinity of Thirty-first street, and that a body of militia had been sent to disperse the mob. The report stated that the lawless element was upsetting freight cars and intended to apply the torch.

About the same time a report came from the Burlington yards at Webster avenue that malfactors were overturning and setting fire to cars, spiking switches and pulling spikes. To that point also a company of militia was dispatched with haste.

A mob set fire to a number of freight cars at Rockwell and Sixteenth streets this forenoon. An alarm was turned in and an engine company No. 30 and truck company No. 13 were responding they were met by the frenzied mob.
Stones and bricks were hurled at the firemen and they were compelled to come to a standstill with their apparatus. The engine was disabled but none of its crew were hurt. The truck company halted only for a minute, and then the driver lashed his team into a furious run, dashed through the mob under a heavy fire of stones and bricks, and reached the fire without further trouble.

Twenty cars standing on the tracks of half a dozen different railroads surrounding the packing houses were destroyed during the day.

All day long troops of United States cavalry and artillery paraded the streets between Thirty-seventh and Fiftieth streets in the district. Tonight a company of cavalry will parade along Michigan avenue from Thirty-fifth street south to Fifty-first street, protecting the residence houses on the boulevard.

The Chicago & Grand Trunk Co. started another wrecking train from the Dearborn station with the intention of clearing its tracks to the city limits. The train was accompanied by a company of the second regiment, I.
N. G.

The Torch.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Supt. Fitzgerald of the Stock Yards Transit Co. stated this morning that a mob set the big hay barn belonging to the Stock Yards Co.
on fire. This barn is an immense structure, and was supposed to be fireproof.
The loss will reach at least $200,000.

Mobs began the work of burning freight cars on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road again this morning.
Fires were started in box cars at Sixteenth and Paulina streets, at Sixteenth and Reber streets and other points. The flames in all cases were extinguished before much damage was done.

The firemen are nearly exhausted after seventy-two hours' almost continuous duty, and Chief Sweeney is kept busy arranging details of men to relieve the overworked firemen.

Another attempt was made to burn freight cars along the line of the Rock Island railroad this morning between Forty-eighth and Fiftieth streets.

About 14 o'clock the police patrolling the district saw flames coming from a freight car at Forty-eighth street, and the fire department was immediately summoned.

Took Forceful Possession of the Building for Sleeping Quarters.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The seventh regiment seized Jayne's building on Wabash avenue for barracks. The use was refused, and Col. Calby applied to Mayor Hopkins, and asked what he should do for sleeping quarters for his men.

"Seize that building," said the mayor, briefly.

"I will," said the colonel, and he did.
The seventh regiment made a lively charge upon the building, drove the watchman away after a slight resistance and took possession.

Guards were established at front and rear entrances, guns in hand, and the soldiers of the seventh lay themselves down to rest. They are there yet, under waiting orders. The mayor has not yet given them a chance to go to the front.

Getting Nearer to the Business Center of the City.

CHICAGO, July 8.—At noon the police reported that the mob at Thirty-fifth and Ullman streets was dispersed with little difficulty. Four cars were burned.

It was reported at the General Managers' association headquarters at 12:35
p. m. that a mob was burning cars and committing other depredations on the Panhandle tracks at Twenty-first street. The police were at once notified. The Twenty-first-street crossing is nearer to the business center of the city than any point at which trouble has heretofore occurred.

The mob was dispersed in both instances.

The Militia Inadequate—A Call for Regulars.

CHICAGO, July 8, 7 p. m.—With the approach of night a feeling of great apprehension is spreading over Chicago.

News has just been received here that the mob at Hammond, Ind., numbers 10,000, and that the militia there is unable to cope with the riotous forces.

A call for regulars has been received.
The humor of the mob is getting hourly worse. Gen. Miles has ordered three companies from the lake front to Hammond. These are part of the soldiers brought here from Fort Leavenworth. The Indiana militia has been unable to handle the mobs.

The Inter-Ocean Chapel Receptions.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The resolutions adopted by the Inter-Ocean chapel of the International Typographical union, which were made public to-day, show that the meeting expressed sympathy with the strikers and pledged support in any manner desired, but did not criticize or denounce the paper, as at first reported.

STRIKERS' STATEMENT

Discussion of Pullman and the Local Trouble Olney Criticized

Eds. REPUBLICAN: It is stated on good authority that George M. Pullman said he would spend millions of dollars to bring employees in his service to their senses. However this may be, if reports are true he does not need to spend one cent to bring his employees to a realizing sense of the injustice in the prices and conditions as fixed by this autocrat. The senses he would bring them to is that of hunger so they will accept that which is proffered to them by their presumptive master who, because he owns the tools, proposes to own the man as well.

George M. Pullman has acquired millions out of the product of the labor of his employees, aided by our government's patent, which took his business out of the range of supply and demand into which he proposes to plunge his laborers now and proposes to subjugate them to the acceptance of that principle, and is willing to spend millions to do so rather than to do what justice and common humanity demand.

And it is even so with the general managers of railroads. Yet as soon as labor becomes dissatisfied with the treatment received and rebels, the property rights of these specially privileged millionaires must be protected. No investigation into the conditions imposed by these owners of property seems to be thought of. The law secures their right to have and to hold and all the power of state and nation is put in force to maintain these rights. The public peace is disturbed and the viable cause is an aggregation of laboring men who are rebelling against something, some condition as fixed by somebody. Do the public defenders inquire who or what is the cause? Property rights are closely defined and followed and, property privileged right or wrong, while the rights are left to the tender mercies of human selfishness. The workingman is admonished to live if you can, die if you must.

Such was and is the condition of things right here in our own quiet little city. No sooner was the word given out that a strike was on than the Hon. Ballard commenced to disturb our peace by doing all in his power to lead our people to believe that the striking employees were a set of lawless and rioting people.
Our Hon. sheriff jumps in and in defiance of law and order has deputies and troops brought here and they are here yet, while not in one single instance has any breach of the peace been committed by any striker. Our sheriff has gone farther. He has been riding on engines run by mobs through the yards, maiming the bell and helping in any way possible to defeat honest, law-abiding citizens who are trying to maintain their rights as such. He has even taken seals imported here to the house he has in charge, and fed and protected them when protection was not needed.

Is this a part of his duty? It is an insult to our citizens. It is an outrage on the public. He should be called upon to answer. He has been and is now protecting men to be used and are being used as locomotive engineers who are wholly incompetent and capable of no more than to ruin the property upon examination. He is doing his duty to the citizens of Macou county?

The citizens have just as much right to demand and have an injunction on the Wabash railroad restraining them from hiring incompetent men as Attorney General Olney has to restrain us from speaking to certain individuals.
Bear in mind, good people of Decatur, that two-thirds of the men now out upon a strike are property owners here in your midst, all honest, upright men, and are entitled to protection as well as railroad companies, and we stand in almost the same position with you that you would be in were some great wrong being done you and people that were near could but would not help you. My neighbor's house might take fire; possibly I could put it out, but I let it burn because there is no law that compels me to put it out. But there is another law that impels, and that is the law of humanity and justice; and it is a mistake that this law is not often put in use to conserve the peace disturbed many times by the inhuman selfishness of one class imposing evil conditions upon another.

Two wrongs do not make a right. The lawlessness of an employer does not justify the lawlessness of the employee. But it is not wise to shut our eyes to the fact that anarchy and lawlessness among the rich and powerful are largely responsible for the same results among the working classes. Yours,
ONE OF THEM.

The Fourth Convention.

The township Sunday school convention at College Street Chapel Sunday afternoon was largely attended, and was a pleasant and profitable gathering. A.
E. Mills and Rev. W. H. Penhalligon were the speakers, and their remarks received hearty approval. The singing by the girls and also by the boys was much appreciated. Mrs. E. J. Strader talked on primary work, and R. G. Wells, the superintendent, gave a history of the school. The music was excellent, with Mrs. Gilbert at the organ and Mr.
Yantis playing a violin. This Sunday school is constantly on the increase.
Next Sunday the convention will be held at Sargent Chapel at 7:30 in the evening.

day with a crew and is doing the switching of the passenger and freight cars in the yards.

The Military.
The Jacksonville soldiers are still here and the officers say that so far as they can learn their stay is indefinite. They are enjoying the military life as best they can.

Will Protect the Property.
The sheriff of Effingham county has sent word to the local officials that he is doing all he can to protect the Wabash property there and has plenty of assistance.

Varying Reports.
The Wabash officials have received messages to-day stating that all employees at Forrest, and on the Hannibal branch, have reported for work. The chairman of the press committee of the ex-employees, states that they have received reports denying that anyone has returned to work.

Freights to Move.
To-morrow morning the Wabash officials will start to move freights. It was at first intended to move them to-day, but the idea was abandoned.

All Quiet at Titon.
There was some disturbance at Titon on Sunday, but to-day reports from that locality state that everything there is peaceful and serene.

Wild Stories.
The Decatur Guards at Danville are all right. Reports in circulation to-day that any of them were injured lack confirmation. See Kendall's interview in this issue.

Will Be a Change.
A prominent ex-engineer of the Wabash to-day stated that in twenty-four hours the situation locally will be materially changed.

An Order Posted.
An order from the headquarters of the road at St. Louis, has been posted stating that when freight crews are called, that all who do not intend going out, should deliver their keys and get their time.

Attorney Winston Here.
Attorney Winston of St. Louis, a lawyer in the employ of the Wabash road, arrived this morning from Springfield and is engaged to-day in writing out complaints against those whom they claim have violated the injunctions of the United States court.

At the Tabernacle.
A cultured and highly attentive audience numbering about 500 people assembled at the Christian tabernacle Sunday night to hear the pastor, Rev. George P. Hall, in the third and last sermon in his present series to young people. His subject was "Golden Helps to a Higher Development." The large choir, under the leadership of Mr. John E. Patterson, rendered some enjoyable selections, and Miss Beatrice Howard, who has lately returned from her studies at Monticello Seminary, delighted the audience with a solo, entitled "Sancta Maria," by Faure. Miss Howard possesses a sweet soprano voice of remarkable clearness, compass and flexibility, and her singing last night shows superior cultivation. We believe this is the young lady's first public performance in Decatur, but we predict that it will not be the last, for such talent is always in demand in the city. We may find space to-morrow to give a synopsis of the latter's sermon.

Tennis.

Strike News—Both Sides—Men Going Out and Going Back.

President Debs Planning to Call Out 200,000 Laborers—Trains Moving.

LATEST FROM CHICAGO.

[Special to the REPUBLICAN.]

CHICAGO, July 9, 9 a. m.—There are now 1000 more Federal troops in Chicago, increasing the defensive force to 10,000.

The Trades Unions at an early hour this morning voted to strike at 4 p. m. Tuesday, unless the Pullman strike is arbitrated. These trades will include 200,000 men.

BETTER FEELING IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 9, 10:30 a. m.—The newspaper offices report less indication of trouble in the city than at any time since the strike. The labor organizations in the city have decided to do nothing toward going out in sympathy with the strike before next Wednesday. The President's proclamation, declaring all men public enemies, and authorizing their destruction, who attempt to destroy railroad property and prevent the movement of trains, is having a salutary effect, the indications everywhere being that few men care to be caught in the act of committing treason against the government.

The Union Stock Yards are preparing for and expect to ship live stock and meats not later than Wednesday of this week.

VERY LATEST FROM CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 9, 3:30 p. m.—Federal troops were withdrawn from Hammond, Ind., this morning. Seven companies of state troops are now in Indiana and near the state line, to take the place of these troops.

Mayor Hopkins has telegraphed to Governor Altgeld for another regiment of militia.

Reports sent out yesterday that the fire losses on Saturday night reached into the millions are exaggerated, the actual loss being $1,630.

The Rock Island road to-day manned its switching towers with negroes. The mob threatened to lynch the negroes and burn the towers, but was dispersed by soldiers.

All switchmen, operators and shopmen of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad at Toledo and Massillon, O., struck this morning.

All trains on the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe in California run without interference to-day.

Coal mining in Indiana, north of Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, is practically suspended, there being no way to deliver coal by rail. This means three-fourths of the Indiana output.

The firemen on St. Louis division of Big Four road refused to work this morning.

Short and Bloody.
CHICAGO, July 7.—The number of killed and wounded by the charge to-night will never be known, as the mob carried off a number of men who were seen to fall. Whether they are dead or wounded is impossible to ascertain at this time. So far as known the casualties are as follows:

DEAD.
John Burke, striker, killed by bayonet through the abdomen.

WOUNDED.
Lieut. Reed, Company C, Second Infantry, I. N. G., struck on the head by stones; condition critical.

Thomas Jackson, shot in the back, will die.

Unknown man, shot through the liver and will die.

Unknown boy, shot in the abdomen; will die.

Tony Garsinski and Henry Williams, each shot in the arm.

John Kerr and an unknown woman each shot in the hip.

The fight occurred at the intersection of Forty-ninth street and the Grand Trunk tracks, a locality which has always had an evil name. Serious trouble was expected there early this morning. Before 9 o'clock the mob gathered and made threats of burning the roundhouse.

Going Back to Work.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 8.—The end came suddenly and effectively to the Alton strike here last night and the feature of to-day is the scramble of men who went out to regain their old positions. With few exceptions the men will be taken back, but the leaders will doubtless be given indefinite vacations. The company has announced its determination to stand by the men who stood by it, so that necessarily some of the old men must be left out. A card has been published signed by E. J. Mead, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of the Alton, and by Frank E. Shaffer of the firemen, saying that the men have voted to declare the strike off.

Freight Cars Burned.

DANVILLE, July 8. Several freight cars were burned in an unfrequented "Y," a mile and a half east of Danville Junction. There was no disturbance of any kind, and the fire department saved many freight cars in the immediate vicinity.

Threatens Mayor With Arrest.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 7. Marshal Brinton this evening notified Mayor Kramer to keep his police away from the depot of the Illinois Central and if he did not comply he would arrest the mayor and put him in jail for contempt. The mayor complied. Col. R. M. Smith, of the Fourth Regiment, wired from Morris that 31 trains had been moved to-day. Everything was quiet, but the outlook is bad.

A Debs Agitator Squelched.

MARIETTA, July 8. A professional agitator named Becker, sent from Chicago by Debs, attempted to address a public meeting at the opera house. He opened out in so weak a manner that Engineer Boyle called him down, whereupon the agitator suggested that Mr. Boyle be put out of the house. Half a dozen men suggested that the agitator be thrown out of the second-story window. At this juncture United States Marshal P. L. Etherton, of Springfield, in the interest of harmony, served a copy of the omnibus injunction on Becker, who was making an inflammatory tirade against the governmental powers and railroad men now working, and he subsided.

In Camp in Chicago

The 1st Sons of Veterans' Guards have gone into service and are now camped at the 2d Regiment armory, Chicago. The third battalion, made up of two companies at Springfield (one of them cavalry), have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to move.

Refuse Sapper to Non-Union men.

EVANSTON, Ill., July 8. Friday night the Wabash train reached this city manned by a non-union engineer and fireman. Conductor Green marched them up into the city, but was unable to obtain supper for them at any public house. Saturday he brought his train in guarded by four deputy marshals armed with rifles. The train was then run back to Stevenson, where the fear of anti-airing strangers is not so great.

Situation at Forrest.

FORREST, Ill., July 7.—The Wabash road sent a train each way over their line between Forrest and Streator to-day, these being the first trains run since Tuesday. A bulletin from the company management announces that the passenger service will according to the old time table, begin Monday, but that freight trains will not be run until further notice. This is a great relief to the towns along the line, as they have been without mail since trains stopped running. The train to-day was in charge of Conductor Glendon.

Charles, a lad of fifteen years, fired the engine, while William Kirk, president of the local A. R. U. in Forrest, acted as engineer, he being the first among the Forrest strikers to be generous of calling a halt. A score of deputy marshals accompanied the train to-day.

Men Who Will Not Strike.

The order for the A. R. U. men on the Louisville & Nashville road to go out sent by Debs was refused, the men stating in reply that they had no grievance.

Railway conductors at Springfield, acting under orders of the chief of the order, refused to join the strikers.

The Missouri Pacific Railway men at St. Louis voted to remain at work.

The Federated Board of Union Pacific Employees in session for two days at Cheyenne, Wyoming, engineers, firemen, brakemen, conductors and telegraphers, voted to remain in the employ of the company.

The Milwaukee & St. Paul railway A. R. U. men voted to leave the Union and remain at work.

The Santa Fe railway men at Galesburg repudiated Debs and adopted a series of recommendations to be presented to the membership, the most vital ones being that they have no direct grievance against the Santa Fe company, that they are prepared to perform their usual duties, and that they recognize the authority of no labor organization above that of the Brotherhood of Rail-
